MEADOWS SCHOOL OF THE ARTS GENERAL INFORMATION

The distinctive education offered by the Meadows School of the Arts comes from our belief in a rich mixture of tradition, innovation, and care for the human spirit. The Meadows School exists to provide an education that centers on the study, creation, and analysis of the communication, performing, and visual arts at the undergraduate and graduate levels within a liberal arts environment.

The Meadows School seeks to embed the arts, with their insights into human values and imagination, in the thou.15plhces0 Tewahe 1wlv

Velásquez, Ribera, Montañes, Murillo, Goya, Sorolla, Picasso, Gris, Miró, and Tápies. The Elizabeth Meadows Sculpture Collection includes important works by such modern sculptors as Rodin, Maillol, Lipschitz, Henry Moore, Marini, Giacometti, Noguchi, David Smith, and Claes Oldenburg.

The Umphrey Lee Center serves as home to several of the communication arts areas. A new journalism complex, including a television studio, computer labs, and editing suites, opened in 2002.

The four-story Jake and Nancy Hamon Arts Library is adjacent to the Owen Arts Center and houses all arts library collections, a slide library, an audio/visual center,

ADMISSION

Various divisions in Meadows School of the Arts have special admissions criteria, such as auditions, portfolio reviews, and specified course work. Admissions criteria pertinent to each instructional unit are stated in the section of this publication devoted to that unit.

Prospective students interested in undergraduate degrees in Meadows School of the Arts apply for undergraduate admission to SMU as first-year students or transfer students through the SMU Office of Enrollment Services, PO Box 750296, Dallas TX 75275-0296. The application deadline for first-year students entering for the fall term is November 1 for early action, January 15 for regular decision and merit scholarships, and November 1 for the spring term. For transfer students, the application deadline is June 1 for the fall term and November 1 for the spring term. (See the University Admission section in the front of this bulletin.)

Admission as an SMU Inter-School Transfer Student

First-year pre-major students enter Dedman College and then transfer to Meadows School of the Arts when they complete requirements for the major declaration. A student transferring from Dedman College (or other schools of the University) must secure a Change of Academic Program form from the dean of the student's current school to present to the Undergraduate Academic services office of Meadows School of the Arts.

Students must have completed a minimum of 24 term hours of study with a minimum cumulative G.P.A. of 2.00. Students in various divisions also must receive formal recognition for suitable scholarly or creative ability, and talent in the performing arts. Art students must take introductory course work in the first year and must seek admission through a review of the work done in those classes. Art History students should contact the chair of the Art History Division for a conference. Advertising, Cinema/Television, Journalism, and Corporate Communications and Public Affairs students must successfully complete the prerequisite subset of courses with the appropriate G.P.A. to be admitted to their degree programs.

It should be noted that all students in dance, music, and theatre will have auditioned/interviewed prior to entering SMU.

Admission as an External Transfer Student

Transfer students applying for admission to Meadows School of the Arts by transfer from another accredited educational institution should request a transfer application from the Office of Enrollment Services. Transfer applicants who have completed 30 transferable hours with a G.P.A. of 2.70 or better are often successful in gaining admission to the University. Once admitted, a transfer student must be prepared to earn 60 hours of credit in residence at SMU.

Transfer credit is not given for correspondence courses or for work completed at a non-accredited school. Only grades of C or better in comparable courses are transferable to SMU.

Transfer into Meadows School of the Arts is not automatic. Recognition is also given to creative or scholarly potential for the program to be undertaken and to particular talent in performing areas. Admissions criteria pertinent to each instructional unit also must be satisfied.

Readmission Students

Students should contact the Meadows Undergraduate Academic Services Office regarding readmission. Music, dance, or theatre students may also be required to re-audition. Official transcripts from each college or university attended since last

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Students who are candidates for a degree in Meadows School of the Arts must submit a formal application for graduation to the Undergraduate Academic Services Office by the third week in September for December graduation, by the last week in January for May graduation, and by the third week in June for August graduation. In addition to the requirements for general education and the major, candidates for graduation must also fulfill the following requirements:

1. Credits:

- a. A minimum total of 122 term credit hours (125 for art majors and 124-137 for music majors).
- b. Each student with a major in Meadows School of the Arts will complete, as a co-curricular requirement, three term credit hours of course work within Meadows but outside the division in which he or she is a major.

2. Grades:

- a. A minimum cumulative G.P.A. of 2.00 on all attempted SMU work and a minimum 2.00 G.P.A. in the major area of study.
- b. A maximum of 12 term credit hours with a grade of C- or better.

3. Residency:

- a. A minimum total of 60 term credit hours in residency.
- b. A maximum of 15 term credit hours of transfer work after matriculation.

A degree from Meadows School of the Arts is awarded by the faculty only in recognition of developed abilities, demonstrated knowledge of the student's particular field of study, and the capacity to express an understanding of the art medium; merely passing all courses is not necessarily sufficient.

Requirements for the Major

Candidates for undergraduate degrees must complete the requirements for an academic major in one of the divisions in Meadows. Students usually declare a major at the end of the first year. Students may major in more than one program within Meadows, or combine a major in Meadows with one in a different school. All course work counting toward a major must be taken for a letter grade, except for those courses which are routinely designated Pass/Fail. To change majors or to declare a second major, students must process appropriate forms in the Undergraduate Academic Services Office.

General Education Requirements

The general education requirements of the University must be met by all undergraduate students, regardless of degree program or major. All courses used to meet general education requirements must be taken for a letter grade. Questions concerning general education requirements may be directed to advisers or the Undergraduate Academic Services Office.

Double Majors

A student who wishes to double major (majors in two departmental areas or in two schools) must satisfy the requirements of each department or school.

Graduation Honors

There are three classes of graduation honors: summa cum laude, magna cum laude, and cum laude. Eligibility for graduation honors will be based upon a student's total academic program. All academic work attempted at other colleges or universities that is equivalent to SMU work will be included in the calculation of the G.P.A. For students who have transferred to SMU, two grade-point averages will be calculated, that for all work attempted, and that for work completed at SMU. Honors will be based on the lower of the two averages.

Commencement Activities Prior to Completion of Degree Requirements

Participation in May graduation activities is allowed to students who are within six hours of completing graduation requirements and are enrolled to complete the required work during the summer following graduation activities. Students who meet the above requirements may petition to participate in Commencement activities.

The minor in the History of the Visual and Performing Arts enables students to study the arts in relation to one another in a historic context. The minor begins with a six-hour historic sequence in the arts. This base is followed by an interdisciplinary arts course and three elective courses to be chosen with care from among the offerings specified. In order to give a cohesive focus to the individual student's minor course choices, each prospective candidate for a minor shall choose a degree plan at the time the minor is declared.

The History of the Visual and Performing Arts minor carries with it a list of approved tracks. If a different track is developed independently it must be approved by Meadows Dean's Office.

PROGRAMS OF STUDY IN MEADOWS

Temerlin Advertising Institute for Education and Research

Professor Patricia Alvey, Distinguished Chair and Director

Professor: Alice Kendrick; Associate Professor: Don Umphrey; Executives-in-Residence: Bill Ford, James Goodnight; Senior Lecturer: Peter Noble; Lecturers: Mark Allen, Bill Galyean; Adjunct Lecturers: Brice Beard, Wayne Geyer, David Henry, Helayne King, Spencer Michlin, Tricia Nichols, Hugh O'Brien, Christopher Owens, Michael Rawlings, Ed Stone.

Admission Requirements

In order to be admitted into the degree program for the Temerlin Advertising Institute, a student must have passed the following required courses with a 2.75 G.P.A. with no grade lower than a C: ENGL 1301, ENGL 1302, MSA 2301, ADV 2374, and a math fundamentals course. The student must earn at least a B- in both ENGL 1301 and in ENGL 1302. No exceptions will be granted. Admission requirements must be met to either major or minor in advertising. Students transferring from other universities must have completed equivalent courses and obtained the equivalent G.P.A. in those courses before they can be admitted to the Temerlin Advertising Institute.

Program of Study Advertising (ADV)

Students pursue an advertising curriculum that offers concentrations with either a management or creative emphasis. The program prepares students for careers in several different areas of the profession, especially advertising agencies and corporate and retail advertising departments. Graduates are also prepared for careers in mass media outlets such as newspapers, magazines, television, radio, and interactive media. SMU advertising students receive a broad-based liberal arts degree with approximately 70 percent of their course work taken outside the Temerlin Advertising Institute. Students are required to take eight hours of a foreign language, and management track students must take a course in statistics. All SMU advertising students are required to take a core of advertising courses designed to teach advertising design, advertising research, advertising media planning, advertising marketing principles, and advertising campaigns. Because SMU is in the center of a dynamic top 10 U.S. advertising market, students are encouraged to take part in a professional internship for course credit during their senior year. Many students hold part-time jobs in advertising to gain additional experience. Thirty-six hours of communications courses are required for a major in advertising.

B.A. Degree in Advertising Management Track

The management track prepares students for an advertising career in advertising agency account management, corporate advertising management, media planning, media buying, and media sales. Students will remain on the management track

The Division of Art offers professional education leading to the B.F.A. and M.F.A. degrees within a traditional liberal arts environment. Knowledge, awareness, and performance are at the center of this education. The commitment to producing liberally educated, well-rounded graduates is at the heart of the mission of the Meadows School. Believing in a rich mixture of tradition and innovation, the Art Division seeks to develop in students analytical abilities and a critical consciousness of the nature and power of images.

This mixture will help students to produce significant works of art that speak to the contemporary issues. At the core of the mixture is substantial studio instruction in the fundamental areas of the making of art, supported by critical and historical th conte1.3people. m of tr/F3tio.smu.pro/rtrior Lectur

The division also runs two special programs of importance to graduate and undergraduate students: the New York Colloquium (a winter interterm program in New York) and a summer program at SMU's campus near Taos, New Mexico. During the New York Colloquium, students visit a range of museums, galleries, artists' studios and other venues appropriate to the development of their critical and professional studies in art. The program at Fort Burgwin, Taos, offers course work as well as independent and directed study each summer, including painting, an interdisciplinary studio workshop, sculpture, photography, and printmaking.

The Dallas-Fort Worth area contains a large artistic community with rich and varied resources. These include six internationally significant museums (The Dallas Museum of Art, SMU's newly designed Meadows Museum, and the Nasher Sculpture Center in Dallas, and the Kimbell Museum, Museum of Modern Art, and Amon Carter Museum in Fort Worth), contemporary exhibition spaces (The MAC, Arlington Museum), and a strong commercial gallery system.

Admission and Financial Aid

Admission to the study of art on the undergraduate level is open to all SMU students. No portfolio is required for admission; however, talented students wishing to pursue the B.F.A. are encouraged to submit work for review and all students seeking artistic scholarships based on merit as they enter the University must submit a portfolio for faculty review. A portfolio guide is available through the Division of Art office to help the student in preparing the portfolio of slides. In addition, each fall the Division of Art hosts a portfolio day for prospective students when faculty critique and discuss student work in an open review. Financial aid for entering and continuing students is based upon accomplishment and progress as judged in portfolio reviews each year, as well as upon a clear understanding of need. The deadline for incoming portfolios to be reviewed for scholarship is March 1st of every year for scholarships beginning in the fall term.

Programs of Study The B.F.A. Degree in Art

The Division of Art offers one undergraduate degree, the Bachelor of Fine Arts. This degree prepares students to become professional artists, engage professions in the arts, or to continue studies at the graduate level. The division offers instruction in six broad areas of media and conceptual approach – painting, drawing, sculpture, printmaking, photography, and ceramics. Within this structure, the faculty encourages cross-disciplinary interaction, which the curriculum is designed to facilitate. First-year students intending to major in art should take additional aid for enrollment of

Minor in Art

The minor in art is planned to give a coherent structure to a brief but serious investigation of studio art. Through a series of courses that become increasingly more challenging as the student progresses, the student should grow to understand the formation of visual imagery and gain confidence in studio practice. The minor is designed for students who wish to incorporate more intensive visual studio training with studies in other areas, such as art history or advertising, or for those lives as artists. (Note: This is a two-term sequence. Students must enroll for fall term first (ASAG 1300, 1304), followed by ASAG 1601 (spring term). Ten class hours per week. Art major or pre-major, or departmental permission. Each term is team-taught.

F

ASAG 1300 Foundations I, Introduction to Studio Practice

ASAG 1304 Foundations II, Introduction to Materials

Note: be taken concurrently; no exceptions

ASAG 1601 Foundations III

1300. Foundations I: Introduction to Studio Practice (Fall term only). For students seeking an intensive study of the visual arts, course focuses on the development of ideas within the studio, primarily through drawing, but also through parallel investigation of three-dimensional work and other media. Students will take ideas through a sequence of specific assignments and projects, examine it in multiple ways to articulate its connections and visual and imaginative possibilities, as well as question the assumptions under which artists work. By moving from drawing to sculpture to design in two or three dimensions, and exploring diverse media, the students and faculty stretch their conceptions of art's way of working.

Note: be taken concurrently with ASAG 1304.

1304. Foundations II: Introduction to Materials. This class is an integral part of the first semester foundations course for art majors or for those students seeking an intensive study of the visual arts. Topics include theory and design in two and three dimensions. : Must be taken concurrently with ASAG 1300.

1601. Foundations III: (Spring term). The continuation of Foundations I and II, with more intensive investigation of the specific media and ideas in studio art, usually through investigations of 2-3 areas of practice under individual faculty members. Topics will vary semester to semester. Ten class hours/week. : ASAG 1300 and 1304.

3310, 4310, 5310. Studio Workshop. An intensive investigation in arts by students engaged in independent work, group collaboration, and analytical study. 15 credit hours in art or permission of instructor.

3340, 4340. Gallery Practicum. A hands-on course in gallery techniques: installation, lighting, publications, gallery management, protection and transportation of works of art, working with curators, planning, design, and analysis of the aesthetics of exhibitions. Taught in a professional gallery setting, the course requires an extensive commitment of time. 15 credit hours in art or permission of instructor.

3350, 5350. Art Colloquium – New York. Involves intensive analysis, discussion, and writing concerning works of art in museum collections and exhibitions, and in alternative exhibition spaces. The class topics studied will deal with the philosophical as well as the practical in order credit hours for internships of five, 10, or 15 hours/week respectively, under the supervision of individual faculty who will supervise and evaluate the internship. Must be approved by departmental chair.

Ceramics (ASCE)

1312. Ceramic Sculpture. A comprehensive introduction to and exploration of the expressive characteristics of clay through the investigation of various hand-building techniques; traditional as well as contemporary approaches to the material will be explored. Studio work will involve kiln operation, clay and glaze formulation, and other processes associated with low-fire ceramics. Emphasis on the analysis of sculptural form, control of the material, and critical judgment.

1313. Ceramics: The Vessel.

5312, 5313, 5314, 5315. Ceramics – Advanced. Advanced problems in sculptural and wheel thrown forms. Emphasis on developing a personal point of view regarding material, process, and idea. ASCE 4312 or 4313 or permission of instructor.

Design (ASDS)

1300. Introduction to Studio – Design I. Lectures and studio exercises familiarize the novice with the functions of visual elements, methods of idea-generation, the selection and organization of elements into two-dimensional compositions.

2302. Collage and Assemblage. Beginning level. A course combining lecture and studio work, studying the influence of culture on perception, using the media of collage and assemblage, which are inexpensive and require no professional skills or techniques, and leave the student free to concentrate on understanding.

3302. Collage and Assemblage. Intermediate level. ASDS 2302 or permission of instructor.

4302. Collage and Assemblage. Advanced level. ASDS 3302 or permission of instructor.

3300, 4300, 5300. Design Studio Workshop. An intensive investigation by art students engaged in independent work, group collaboration, and analytical study. Depending on topic and work completed, may be applied to different media concentrations. 15 credit hours in art or permission of instructor.

3310, 4310, 5310. Digital Design Workshop. An intensive introduction to digital media, including two-dimensional imaging (Photoshop and related programs) and three-dimensional CAD imaging, designed to enable the integration of digital media into studio practice. Students are encouraged to engage in independent work, group collaboration, and analytical study. Depending on topic and work completed, study may be applied to different media concentrations. 15 credit hours in art, or permission of instructor.

5300. Design and the Visual Image. A reexamination of fundamental design assumptions and principles. Intended for advanced art majors and prospective design instructors, the course combines studio work in picture construction with reading in the classic literature of design and visual perception. 24 credit hours in art or permission of instructor.

5301. Color and the Visual Image.

2 Meadows School of the Arts

3300, 3301. Drawing, Intermediate Level. Designed to increase the student's command of technique and to further develop vision and individual approaches to drawing. ASDR 2300.

3303. Perspective. An intensive study and analysis of spatial illusion, systems of perspective, and the geometry of visualization. Foundations or ASDR 2300.

4300, 4301. Drawing. Advanced drawing with emphasis on independent development. ASDR 3300, 3301, or permission of instructor.

5300, 5301. Drawing, Advanced. ASDR 4300 or 4301 or permission of instructor.

5100, 5101, 5200, 5201, 5302, 5303. Directed Studies in Drawing.

Painting (ASPT)

1300. Introduction to Studio – Painting. A first course in painting from life, objects, and landscape, supplemented by outside assignments. Emphasis is on materials, color relationships, and critical judgment.

2300. Introduction to Studio – Painting II. For students completing Foundations or painting and drawing at the 1300 level, includes instruction in the use of materials and approaches to representation, with special emphasis on color and composition. ASPT 1300, or Foundations.

2306. Painting in Taos. A study of painting in the physical and cultural environment of the Fort Burgwin Research Center. ASPT 1300 or ASDR 1300, or permission of instructor.

3300, 3301. Painting. Intermediate level course designed to increase the student's command of technique and to develop vision and sense of style. ASPT 2300.

3305. Studio Workshop: Color and Meaning. An advanced painting workshop for students who have completed ASPT 1300 and 2300, and who are ready to work on problems with some independence. Theoretical works on color will be discussed and employed, but the central concern will be the development of color relationships within each student's work. ASPT 2300.

3306. Painting in Taos. An intermediate study of painting in the physical and cultural environment of the Fort Burgwin Research Center. ASPT 2300 or 2306, or permission of instructor.

3309. Painting in Rome. A study of painting in the physical and cultural environment of Rome and the Italian peninsula. ASPT 2300 or permission of instructor.

4300, 4301. Painting. Continuation of ASPT 3300, 3301, with emphasis on individual development. ASPT 3300.

4306. Painting in Taos. An advanced study of painting in the physical and cultural environment of the Fort Burgwin Research Center. ASPT 3300 or 3301 or 3306, or permission of instructor.

5300, 5301. Painting. Advanced problems for the senior student. ASPT 4300 or 4301, or permission of instructor.

5100, 5101, 5200, 5201, 5302, 5303, 5304. Directed Studies in Painting.

5107, 5207, 5307, 5308. Studio Workshop in Taos. Advanced problems in painting involving independent work, group collaboration, and analytical study in the physical and cultural environment of the Fort Burgwin Research Center. ASPT 4300 or 4301, or permission of instructor.

5306. Painting in Taos. An advanced study of painting in the physical and cultural environment of the Fort Burgwin Research Center. ASPH 4300 or 4301 or permission of instructor.

Photography (ASPH)

1300. Basics of Photography. Thorough discussion of equipment and operation of 35mm photography. Elements of visual design (such as space, composition, color, and light) explored through the medium of photography. Emphasis placed upon the creative use of aperture, shutter speed, framing techniques, and exposure selection. No darkroom. Written examination and 35mm slide assignments.

1306. Photography in Taos. A study of photography in the physical and cultural environment of the Fort Burgwin Research Center.

Program of Study

Two alternative courses of study are available for students wishing to major in the history of art. One is directed toward a B.A. degree, and the other toward a B.F.A. degree. They differ in the recommended distribution of courses other than art history, the B.A. emphasizing the humanities, the B.F.A. emphasizing studio art.

NOTE: Only courses passed with a grade of C or better will count for credit toward the major in art history. Courses passed with a grade of D- or less may count toward other, elective requirements in a student's degree plan.

B.A. in Art History

The B.A. degree in art history places the history of art within the wider context of such humanistic disciplines as history, religion, aesthetics, politics, language, and civilization generally. Through the study and analysis of art, architecture, and objects of virtue, the program is intended to extend the student's visual and cultural awareness. Because of the richness of its intellectual background, the B.A. in art history provides one of the most diverse and stimulating of the liberal arts degrees. Students completing this course of study are prepared for advanced training either in the numerous related professions or within the field of art history.

B.F.A. in Art History

The B.F.A. is a liberal arts degree which provides the student with a course of study incorporating both art history and studio art. The degree requires 60 credit hours of work in art and art history of which a minimum of 33 term credit hours must be in art history and at least 12 hours in studio art. The remaining 15 hours may be distributed in either discipline at the student's preference. The degree provides the student with substantial exposure to each discipline and an opportunity to develop both scholarly and creative abilities in the visual arts. The degree is suitable for entry-level positions within the art field or other occupations and may provide the student with a foundation for advanced study in art, art history, art education, or arts

Art History Courses (ARHS)

Introductory Courses

1303. Introduction to Western Art I: Prehistoric through Medieval. An introduction in lecture form to the fundamentals of art history. Includes observations of historical styles, techniques, and media of cultures.

1304. Introduction to Western Art II: Renaissance through Modern. A continuation of ARHS 1303. Can be taken separately or as part of a two-term survey of the history of Western art.

1305. Introduction to Far Eastern Art. This is a survey of the major monuments of China and Japan including paintings, ceramics, sculpture, bronzes, and some minor arts. Some material from India is also included, especially for the beginnings of Buddhism.

1306. Introduction to Architecture. A basic history of Western architecture from earliest times to the present century and an introduction to understanding architecture — materials, structure, compositional principles, and pertinent terminology.

1307. World Art Traditions: A Survey. A survey of the visual arts (painting, sculpture, architecture, ceramics) of Asia, the Pacific World, Africa, and the native New World peoples.

1308. Epic of Latin America. Examines art, society, and culture in Latin America, 1450-1950. Presents art as a broad and multifaceted cultural problematic, and considers both the enduring legacies and the dynamic processes of change that have shaped the region and its art. Topics include: Pre-Columbian Empires; Royal Spanish Cities, Revolution, Reform, and Modernism; Umbanda, Santeria, and Vodou; Native American and Gendered Identities. An introductory survey intended for undergraduates of all academic and professional interests: no previous art history courses or experience with Latin America necessary. Slide lectures, classroom discussions, visits to SMU and Dallas museums.

1309. Image and Imagination: Myth and Narrative in Classical Art. This is an introduction to the ways and means Greek and Roman mythology is presented to the spectator in classical art. The interrelationships between poet and painter, author and artist are explored through the common medium of myth. Changing approaches to narrative in each medium and in different periods of classical antiquity are of prime importance as the student becomes familiar with the particulars, uses, and interpretations of Greek and Roman sagas focusing on the gods and heroes of the classical past.

1311. Sport and Spectacle in the Ancient Mediterranean. Integrates the social and cultural functions of sport and spectacle in the ancient Mediterranean from the Bronze Age to late antiquity. Lectures and discussions focus on the institutions of sport and spectacle in ancient Greece, Etruria, and Rome as evidenced by architecture, art, material culture, and historical sources.

media where digital technology has generated a world of endlessly reproducible, transmittable images. The class is particularly well-suited to students history of art; abstraction and the female nude; the use of one's "self" as material for art; and feminist filmmaking.

3360. Modern Painters in Spain. Deals with Spanish art since the beginning of modernity in Spain by the early 19th century to the present. Focuses on the most important and internationally recognized Spanish painters of the 20th century (Picasso, Dali, and Miró), and also emphasizes actual trends in painting. Special attention given to integrate program activities into the syllabus, such as the study of Gaudi's architecture. (SMU-in-Spain)

3364. History of the Print. A survey of the woodcut, the engraving, and the etching from their origins in 15th-century Germany to major developments of the printed media in the 20th century.

3367. History of Photography. A survey of the evolution of photography from its beginnings in the early 19th century. Focuses on the closely interwoven threads of technological and aesthetic developments in photography.

3368. Contemporary Art and Architecture, 1945-1965. A survey of American and European art and architecture from World War II to 1965. Within this chronological survey, broader themes of nationalism, race, and gender will be discussed.

3369. Contemporary Art and Architecture, 1965-Present. A survey of American and European art and architecture from 1965 to the present. Within this chronological survey, broader themes of nationalism, race, and gender will be discussed.

British and American Art

3370. British Architecture. Developments, architects, and buildings in Great Britain from the late Middle Ages through the middle of the 19th century, emphasizing Smythson, Wren, Hawksmoor, Adam, Soane, and Pugin.

3371. British Art: Elizabethan through Victorian. Examines landscape traditions, portraiture, and genre painting in England from 1740 to 1860 and their relationship to the literature and politics of the period.

3372. American Architecture. A survey of building types and styles from the first European settlements to postmodernism, emphasizing the Mexican baroque, the American wooden vernacular, Richardson, Sullivan, and Wright.

3373. American Art and Architecture to 1865. A survey of American painting, sculpture, and architecture from the Colonial period through the Civil War.

3374. American Art and Architecture, 1865-1945. A survey of American painting, sculpture, and architecture from the Civil War through World War II.

3375. Arts of the American Southwest. An overview of the visual culture of the region, defined as Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona, and California. Focuses on the region's cultural landscape, its past and present identity as art colony, art subject, and art center. Looks at works produced by indigenous inhabitants, later arrivals, and visitors; at cross-cultural connections and disconnections; at the roles played by the arts and tourism in the region's development; and at the validity of regionalism as a category of investigation.

World Art

3376. Latin American Art. A survey of art and architecture in Latin America from the initial contacts between European and American civilizations until the 20th century.

3377. (CF 3375) Art and Architecture of Hispanic New Mexico. Examines the artistic and cultural legacies of colonial New Mexico: Spanish city planning and church design; retablos, santos, and their place in religious experience; art in the secular life of towns and haciendas of colonial and post-colonial New Mexico. Emphasizes field trips to galleries, collections, and historical sites of northern Mexico. (SMU-in-Taos)

3380. Native American Art: The Southwestern Traditions. Surveys, through field trip and lecture-discussion, two major traditions, Native American and Hispanic, which flourish in the American Southwest.

3381. American Indian and Eskimo Art. The ritual and everyday objects of the Native inhabitants of North America, and the architecture of the Mound Builders and the Southwestern Indians.

3382. Arts of the Ancient Andean Tradition: Chavín to Inca. A survey of the major arts produced between ca. 1200 BC and AD 1530 by the indigenous peoples of modern western South America with greatest emphasis on the many successive art-producing cultures of Peru.

3383. The Ancient Maya: Art and History. Presents an introduction to the art and history of the Maya of Central America. Addresses the principal sites and monuments of the ancient Maya civilization, imparts a working understanding of the Maya hieroglyphic writing system, and surveys the political history of the fractious ancient Maya cities.

3385. The Aztecs Before and After the Conquest: Mesoamerica, 1400-1600. Examines the art and cultural history of Mexico in the centuries immediately before and after the Spanish arrival in Mesoamerica. Topics include the art and ceremony of the imperial Aztec state; the nature of the conflict between 1519 and 1521 that ended in the fall of the Aztec capital to the Spanish; and the monuments of Spanish conquerors, missionaries, and native elite in Mexico's early colonial period.

3390. Traditional Arts of Africa. A survey of the art produced in traditional African societies with special emphasis on the sculpture of West and Central Africa.

3392. (CFA 3313) Islamic Art and Architecture: The Creation of a New Art. Treats issues significant to the creation and expansion of Islamic art from the 7th to the 15th century. Topics include the cultural and political exchange and conflict between Muslims and Christians; religious concerns and the artistic forms created to meet them; the importance of the book in Muslim culture; the distinctions between religious and secular art; and the appropriation of sacred space in Muslim architecture.

3394. Art and Architecture of Japan. Survey of religious and secular arts from prehistoric museums to encourage them to make immediate connections between what they read and what

29 Meadows School of the Arts

Advanced elective courses in multimedia applications; global media systems; electronic media programming, sales, and policy; and audience research are designed to prepare students for rewarding careers in the modern television industry.

Instructional Facilities

The Division of Cinema-Television is located in the Umphrey Lee Center, which houses faculty offices; classrooms; audio, video, and film production; and media support areas. These include basic video, audio modules; video logging rooms; off-line editing rooms; nonlinear video editing labs; film editing suites; advanced film editing modules; storage and equipment checkout; digital audio rooms; 35mm film projection hall; seminar room; graphics lab; editing labs; viewing rooms; and production classrooms. Two additional screening classrooms equipped for film, video, and DVD projection are located in the Greer Garson Theatre.

Admission and Degree Requirements

To be admitted to the major in Cinema-Television, a student must complete the following courses with a cumulative 3.0 G.P.A.: ENGL 1301 and 1302; CTV 1320 Survey of Television and Media; CTV 2301 Film and Video Aesthetics; a math fundamentals course; and an approved liberal arts course.

In addition, the student must compile a 3.00 G.P.A. in ENGL 1301 and 1302. The applicant must also earn a minimum grade of - CTV 1320 Survey of Television and Media and CTV 2301 Film and Video Aesthetics.

Students transferring from other universities must have completed equivalent courses and obtained the equivalent G.P.A. in those courses before they can be admitted to the major.

Scholarships

Communication Honors Scholarships are awarded each year to outstanding students who intend to major in Cinema-Television.

Honors Program

The Honors Program in Cinema-Television is highly selective; approximately 10 students are selected to participate as incoming first-years. Twelve hours of course work must be completed in Cinema-Television and/or related communications divisions Honors course sections. At midterm of the sophomore year, declared Cinema-Television majors with a G.P.A. of 3.50 or higher are invited into the Honors Program.

To remain in the program, students must maintain a average in all work at SMU, a average in Cinema-Television, and a average in Honors courses.

For more information, contact the chair, Division of Cinema-Television, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, TX 75275.

Internships

Upon attaining upperclass status, qualified students are encouraged to pursue internships that enable them to work under the guidance of professionals in the motion picture, radio, television, cable, and other electronic media industries. Non-classroom internship credit is limited to three credit hours taken as an elective.

Directed Studies

A directed study is a close collaboration between a professor and an advanced student with junior or senior standing who conducts a rigorous research or creative project that goes beyond the experience available in course offerings. The student must secure formal approval from the professor to undertake a Directed Studies project.

Class Attendance

Due to limited class space and enrollment pressures, a student who fails to appear on the first day or who fails to attend three consecutive class meetings during an academic term without establishing contact with the instructor may be administratively dropped from a course.

(SMU and transfer credit hours) may be in any combination of communications courses including CCPA-designated coursework. CCPA students must work closely with their academic adviser to ensure compliance with these standards. Students seeking to double major or minor in another communications-related field may need to complete more than the minimum 122 total hours required for graduation.

Majors may elect as part of their senior studies to pursue either a general CCPA curriculum or a specialized course of study or “track” within the division. The division currently offers three course tracks that emphasize specialized studies in Corporate Communications, Nonprofit Management, or Public Affairs.

Students are encouraged to participate in service-learning opportunities and make important career connections through supervised internships with Dallas-area businesses. They are encouraged to participate in the student chapter of the International Association of Business Communicators (IABC).

To find more information about the Corporate Communications and Public Affairs degree program, please visit the CCPA Web page at meadows.smu.edu/ccpa.

Admission

In addition to those requirements of the University and of Meadows School of the Arts, undergraduate students planning to major or minor in Corporate Communications and Public Affairs must complete: ENGL 1301 and 1302 with a minimum grade of C and an average GPA of 2.75, a math fundamentals course (STAT 1301 is recommended), and nine hours of CCPA core coursework (MSA 2301, CCPA 2327, and CCPA 2308). Students must earn a grade of C or better in each of these three CCPA core courses before a major or minor may be declared. A minimum GPA of 2.75 is required in these 18 hours of core coursework before a student will be accepted and classified a CCPA major or minor. A core course may be repeated no more than once in order to meet requirements to declare CCPA as a major or minor.

Special Requirements

Transfer hours for core course requirements may be considered on petition and approval of the faculty. Courses satisfying major requirements should be taken through the SMU program.

CCPA coursework may not be double-counted toward the requirements for another major or minor. Students must earn a grade of C- or better for coursework toward their major or minor CCPA degree requirements.

Scholarships

Communication Honors Scholarships are awarded each year to outstanding students who intend to major in Corporate Communications and Public Affairs. The Douglas Bauer Incentive Scholarship is a competitive scholarship available to one declared sophomore or junior each year.

CCPA Honors Program

Students may apply for admission to the CCPA Honors track after completion of 45 hours with a 3.50 overall GPA or better. To graduate with honors, students must take six hours of honors-designated CCPA courses and the CCPA 4375 Honors Thesis in Communication Theory course. Students accepted to the CCPA Honors track must maintain a 3.50 or higher overall GPA in all SMU coursework to graduate with the Honors distinction. The top 10 percent of each class is eligible for faculty nomination into Kappa Tau Alpha, the national communication honorary.

techniques, complemented and reinforced by a broad range of theoretical studies and performance opportunities. The program provides an atmosphere in which students are nurtured and stimulated in their quest for artistic achievement, technical mastery, and scholarly excellence. Undergraduate majors study dance as a performing art with the intent to become practicing artists. The core of the dance curriculum is designed with this goal in mind. The combination of performance and liberal education courses serves to develop the articulate dancer.

Program of Study
B.F.A. in Dance Performance

The Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Dance Performance is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Dance. Successful completion of this program will enhance the student's personal growth as well as technical development in ballet, modern dance, and jazz dance. The degree requires 73 credit hours in dance, of which a minimum of 38 are in studio training. The remaining 35 credit hours provide students with the opportunity to develop scholarly and creative abilities in dance and related areas of interest.

Students whose hours in the General Education Curriculum, the major requirements, and the major's supporting course requirements exceed a total of 122 will be exempt from three hours of Perspectives and an additional three hours of either Perspectives or Cultural Formations.

Regulations

The faculty expects dance majors to apply themselves scholastically and to assume responsibilities conscientiously. Students are required to maintain a minimum G.P.A. of 2.70 in dance courses to continue in the dance major. Grades lower than are not acceptable in any required dance course and will necessitate a repeat enrollment. If requirements are not met, the student is placed on academic probation. To be eligible for scholarship, students are required to maintain a minimum cumulative G.P.A. of 2.70 in dance courses and be enrolled in a minimum of six credit hours in dance. Full participation in the program and in Division performances is expected of every student who receives a merit scholarship award. Performance studies and production activities take precedence over dance work outside of the Division.

Evaluation

High standards of discipline and execution are essential for artistic growth, progress, and success. Regular class attendance, attendance at auditions, classroom and theatre etiquette, punctuality and attendance at student meetings are essential. Students meet with individual faculty at midterm for a progress report and to establish individual goals. At the close of each term, each student receives a performance evaluation by the collective faculty. Various aspects of a student's work are examined, including technical progress, capacity for and commitment to class work, personal growth and maturity, attitude, academic performance, production support, program participation, performance artistry, and weight control. When standards are not met, a student is advised that significant improvement must take place to remain in the program. Poor critiques may result in immediate dismissal from the dance major program, and/or loss of dance scholarship funding. All dance scholarships are reviewed annually. Further details on standards and requirements for the dance major are included in the
