

Avoid Repetition and Lists

Most application or nomination packets require a cv. Therefore, do not spend time listing the candidate's accomplishments or publications. Reference to a publication does not provide evidence of scholarly impact. Instead, highlight and describe the significance of a publication. Why is the publication significant? For whom? In